Atlanta, Georgia, January 30, 2010 – The University of Georgia Alumni Association, in conjunction with the Office of External Affairs, has released its inaugural ranking of the Bulldog 100: Fastest Growing Bulldog Businesses. At a reception held at the Intercontinental Hotel on January 30, 2010, Atlanta-based Payscape Advisors was recognized as the third fastest growing company. Leo Welf, class of 1995, was the honoree in attendance as President of Sales and co-founder of Payscape Advisors.

The Bulldog 100 is a program that will determine and award the 100 fastest growing businesses that are owned or operated by UGA Alumni each year. Companies must show a strong compounded annual growth rate over the past three years and operate in a manner consistent with The University of Georgia's "Pillars of the Arch" character statement.

"Payscape Advisors should be congratulated for being among the first selection of Bulldog 100 companies," said Deborah Dietzler, Executive Director of the UGA Alumni Association. "With more than 400 nominees representing businesses from throughout the United States, it is a true achievement to be selected. The UGA Alumni Association is proud to honor Payscape Advisors for its accomplishments."
